

On some trials, you might be asked to type the word that you identified so it is important that you were able to accurately identify the word before pressing the spacebar.

Some of the hidden words will be words that you recognize from the learning phase BUT many will be new.

Trying to predict the hidden word will interfere with your ability to detect new words and this will actually make you slower and less accurate.

Avoid guessing what the word will be and instead just focus on trying to quickly identify it.
